Aphasia: Translating Evidence to Practice

Intended Audience: SLP

Intermediate Level

Contact Hours: 6 hours

Presenter: Christina M. del Toro, Ph.D., CCC-SLP

Course Description

This course will focus on applying research evidence to clinical practice of aphasia rehabilitation. Participants will learn to use Dell's model of language to differentially diagnose impairments in aphasia word production; develop treatment protocols based on principles of neuroplasticity; incorporate quality of life and patient reported outcomes in assessment and treatment; and engage in hands-on learning of treatment protocols.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of the course, participants will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the use of a model of word production to differentially diagnose word finding impairments in aphasia.
2. Describe how to apply the principles of neuroplasticity to aphasia treatments.
3. Describe how to incorporate quality of life and patient reported outcomes in aphasia treatment.
4. Discuss the purpose and procedures for evidence-based treatments for aphasia.
